KNOW YOUR NEIGHBOUR WEEKEND': "People don't even know their own neighbours." How many times have we heard this in recent times? Macra na Feirme is rising to the challenge with an initiative called 'Know Your Neighbour Weekend', which will take place this weekend 14th/15th July. This campaign is encouraging people to organise an activity over this weekend and invite your neighbours. We encourage you to think of those who are living on their own and may appreciate just a chat!

QUESTIONS PEOPLE ASK

Q: I have a neighbour who makes life very difficult. I don't want to be bitter but it's hard. Have you any advice?

A: Yes, it is very difficult not to allow the wrongdoing of another to poison our reactions. The ability to move beyond the hurt doesn't come naturally, so we need super-natural help, namely the grace of the Holy Spirit. Anybody who acts like your neighbour is really a person sick in mind and soul. The Holy Spirit lifts us up to give us a broader picture of the problem. There we understand the sick personality and we move from bitterness towards compassion. So, my advice is to constantly hand it over to the Holy Spirit.
